Objective

With the rapid expansion of the Asia-Pacific economy in the last decade and now the recovery after the recent downturn, severe demands will be placed on energy services and the environment. The future will see a continuing challenge to balance growth with sustainability in the economic, social and environmental sectors. APCSEET 2000, a sequel to the immensely successful APCSEET conferences held in Singapore and Australia, aims to meet this challenge by addressing the pertinent issues related to sustainable energy and environmental protection.

The conference will provide a forum for participants from academia, industry and government agencies to interact, report on research in progress, and identify opportunities in the fields of sustainable energy and environmental technology.
